

Lewis & Raymond spark successful June for EGU squad

With the elite amateur schedule now in full flow, the month of June was a successful one for members of the EGU's first team squad. Powakaddy supported the squad by providing each player with a state-of-the-art limited edition Powakaddy SPORT Lithium which they regularly use during both competitive play and in practise.

Tom Lewis from Welwyn Garden City enjoyed great success in June. This started with victory at the St Andrew Links Trophy, with an outstanding performance on the Old Course in cold and breezy conditions, to finish four shots clear of his nearest competitor. Fellow EGU team mate Andrew Sullivan and Jack Senior also performed well, both finishing inside the top 10.

Next up, was the prestigious British Amateur Championship, which was this year held at the north west links courses, Hillside and Hesketh. Tom once again displayed his talents to get through to the quarter finals, using his Powakaddy SPORT to help him get through five days of intense competition.

Fellow first team player, Andrew Sullivan also put on a good show, reaching the last 16.

Lewis' successful month was topped off at the end of the month, when he qualified for The Open Championship at Royal St Georges. His qualification was sealed when he won the local final qualifying event at Rye Golf Club by an impressive 3 shots, finishing on a total of eight under par.

Neil Raymond was another victorious member of the EGU first team during June, as he won the Brabazon Trophy, at Burham & Berrow. Hampshire golfer Neil stole a one shot victory over EGU team mate, and fellow Powakaddy SPORT user Andrew Sullivan who tied for second.
